CONNECTICUT

Connecticut Residents Affected by Liver Disease

Larry M.

Larry advocates to raise awareness about liver disease and the importance of liver health. Larry was completely unaware he had liver disease until he was admitted to the hospital with severe jaundice or yellowing of the skin. He was in acute liver failure and placed on the liver transplant waitlist that same day. One week later on his 44th birthday, Larry underwent a successful liver transplant and got a second chance through the gift of life.

ALF is a national community of patients, caregivers and medical professionals dedicated to helping people improve their liver health. Providing guidance and life-saving resources, we are a beacon for the 100 million Americans affected by liver disease. We advocate for patients and families, fund medical research and educate the public about liver wellness and disease prevention. We bring people together through our educational programs and events and create a network of support that lasts a lifetime. ALF is the largest organization focused on all liver diseases and the trusted voice for patients and families living with liver disease.
